To—Deputy Commissioners of Districts, Circular No. 1342-50—32, dated, Bangalore, 2nd September 1889.

An instance has come before the Inspector General of Forests in which an intending purchaser of a timber log from a depôt obtained a letter of advice in September; but failed to pay the amount into the Treasury till the end of December and the Forest Officer had to issue a notice to him as to whether he would pay for the log and which notice elicited no reply. In the meantime another purchaser turned up and bought the log upon payment. The original intending purchaser also paid the amount upon his letter of advice which remained uncancelled. In order to obviate such difficulties or complications, the Inspector General hereby directs that on each and every letter of advice in future the time within which payment should be made, be noted and that no payment be received at the Treasury after the time nor need any notice be taken of such time expired advices by the Issuing Officer.

A copy of this Circular will be forwarded to the Comptroller for needful instructions to the Treasury Department.

L. RICKETTS,
Inspector General of Forests.
